

Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy

Approved by the Board with effect from 11 February 2022

1. Introduction

- 1.1 Bribery can be described as the giving to or receiving by any person of anything of value (usually money, a gift, loan, reward, favour, commission or entertainment), as an improper inducement or reward for obtaining business or any other benefit. Bribery can take place in the public sector (eg bribing a public official) or private sector (eg bribing the employee of a customer). Bribery can also take place where an improper payment is made by or through a third party.
- 1.2 Bribes can include, but are not limited to:
- (a) gifts and excessive or inappropriate entertainment, hospitality, travel and accommodation expenses;
 - (b) payments, whether by employees or business partners such as agents or consultants;
 - (c) kickbacks, where a payment is made (often by a supplier or a service provider) in return for a business favour or advantage;
 - (d) other 'favours' provided to public officials or customers, such as engaging a company owned by a public official or customer's family; and
 - (e) the uncompensated use of company services, facilities or property.
- 1.3 It is irrelevant whether the bribe is accepted or ultimately paid, and also irrelevant whether an advantage is in fact obtained. Merely offering or accepting a bribe is usually sufficient for an offence to be committed.
- 1.4 Corruption means a dishonest activity involving the abuse of a position and/or trust to get an advantage or gain not legitimately due (whether a personal advantage or an advantage for the Company).
- 1.5 Bribery and corruption may give rise to serious offences with criminal and civil penalties. Such activities can also damage the reputation of Solstice Minerals Limited (the Company) and its standing in the community. The Company aims to comply with all applicable anti-bribery and anti-corruption laws in countries where we operate.

2. Scope

- 2.1 This Policy applies to all directors, employees, suppliers, consultants, customers, agents, joint venture partners (where they agree to be bound by the Policy) as well as temporary and contract staff (including subcontractors) of the Company and any of its controlled entities (Representatives). Representatives must ensure that they do not become involved, in any way, in the payment or receiving of bribes or kickbacks, or corrupt activities, whether in the public or commercial sector. This Policy sets out the minimum standards to which all Representatives of the Company must adhere to at all times.

3. Objective

- 3.1 The Company has a zero-tolerance approach to bribery and corruption and is committed to acting professionally, fairly and with integrity in all business dealings in all countries in which the Company and its subsidiaries operate.
- 3.2 The objectives of this Policy are to:
- (a) set out the responsibilities in observing and upholding the Company's position on bribery and corruption;
 - (b) further reinforce the Company's values as set out in its Statement of Vision, Mission and Values; and
 - (c) provide information and guidance to those working for, or with, the Company on how to recognise and deal with bribery and corruption issues.
- 3.3 Importantly, this Policy is not intended to constrain the Company or interfere with its provision of valuable assistance to communities within which it operates (for example, providing funds or services to education facilities, local government or community groups). However, Representatives must exercise common sense and judgement in assessing whether any arrangement could be perceived to be corrupt or otherwise inappropriate.

4. Anti-bribery and anti-corruption policy

4.1 Policy details

No Representative of the Company is permitted to pay, offer, accept or receive a bribe in any form. A Representative must never:

- (a) offer, pay or give anything of value to a public official in order to obtain business or anything of benefit to the Company. 'Public official' should be interpreted very broadly, to mean anyone paid directly or indirectly by the government or performing a public function, including officials of state owned enterprises and public international organisations;
- (b) attempt to induce a public official, whether local or foreign, to do something illegal or unethical;
- (c) pay any person when they know, or have reason to suspect, that all or part of the payment may be channelled to a public official. Representatives should therefore be careful when selecting third parties, such as agents, contractors, subcontractors and consultants;

- (d) offer or receive anything of value as a 'quid pro quo' in relation to obtaining business or awarding contracts. Bribery of 'public officials' is a serious matter, but bribery of those working in the private sector is also illegal and contrary to the Company's Code of Conduct;
- (e) establish an unrecorded (slush) fund for any purpose;
- (f) otherwise use illegal or improper means (including bribes, favours, blackmail, financial payments, inducements, secret commissions or other rewards) to influence the actions of others, or offer anything of value when they know it would be contrary to the rules of the recipient's organisation for the recipient to accept it;
- (g) make a false or misleading entry in the Company books or financial records;
- (h) act as an intermediary for a third party in the solicitation, acceptance, payment or offer of a bribe or kickback;
- (i) make so-called 'facilitation' or 'grease' payments, which are prohibited payments made to expedite or secure the performance of routine government action. Such payments should not be made to public officials, even if they are nominal in amount and/or common in a particular country;
- (j) do anything to induce, assist or permit someone else to violate these prohibitions; and
- (k) ignore, or fail to report, any suggestion of a bribe.

4.2 Agents and Intermediaries

- (a) Representatives should not hire an agent, consultant or other intermediary if they have reason to suspect that they will pay bribes on the Company's behalf.
- (b) Representatives should seek to ensure that any third parties that are hired will not make, offer, solicit or receive improper payments on behalf of the Company. All fees and expenses paid to third parties should represent appropriate and justifiable remuneration for legitimate services to be provided and should be paid directly to the third party. Accurate financial records of all payments must be kept.
- (c) All business units should adopt appropriate procedures directed towards ensuring that their arrangements with third parties do not expose them to non-compliance with this Policy. Such procedures should assist Representatives in determining whether particular third parties present a corruption risk and, if so, what steps should be taken to address that risk. This may include, in particular, cases where a third party is engaged to act on behalf the Company:
 - (i) to solicit new business;
 - (ii) to interact with public officials; or

- (iii) in other high risk situations.
- (d) Representatives must also be aware of factors which suggest the third party may pose a high corruption risk, and consult with their line managers to assess whether there is a need for enhanced due diligence and monitoring, or whether a proposed relationship should not proceed.

4.3 Gifts, entertainment and hospitality

The Company prohibits the offering or acceptance of gifts, discounts, entertainment or hospitality in circumstances which could be considered to give rise to undue influence or compromise the exercise of objective business judgement. All Representatives must notify the Executive Director or the Company Secretary of any gifts and/or benefits, either offered or accepted and valued at AUD 200 or more, to safeguard and make transparent their relationships and dealings with third parties.

4.4 Donations and sponsorships

- (a) The Company does not make political donations or payments.
- (b) Charitable donations can in some circumstances be used as a disguise for bribery, eg where a donation is provided to a 'charity' which is controlled by a public official who is in a position to make decisions affecting the Company. Therefore, whilst the Company supports community outreach and charitable work, recipients must be subject to a suitable due diligence and approval process in all circumstances. It must be clear who the actual recipient of the donation is and for whose benefit the donation is ultimately made.
- (c) Sponsorships differ from charitable donations in that, apart from providing a benefit to the recipient, they are aimed at obtaining a marketing benefit for the Company. Sponsorships can create problems when they are seen to improperly induce or reward a discretionary favourable action or the exercise of influence.
- (d) Charitable donations or sponsorships above AUD 500 made on behalf of the Company must be approved by the Executive Director.

4.5 Mergers and acquisitions

An anti-corruption due diligence on companies which the Company is considering acquiring should be performed during the overall due diligence process. The following risk areas should be considered during the due diligence process:

- (a) an entity's control environment: policies, procedures, employee training, audit environment and whistleblower issues;
- (b) any ongoing or past investigations (government or internal), adverse audit findings (external or internal), or employee discipline for breaches of anti-corruption law or policies;

- (c) the nature and scope of an entity's government sales and the history of significant government contracts or tenders. Risks include improper commissions, side agreements, cash payments and kickbacks;
- (d) an entity's important regulatory relationships, such as key licenses, permits, and other approvals. Due diligence in that context would focus on employees who interact with these regulators, and whether there are any fees, expediting payments, gifts or other benefits to public officials;
- (e) travel, gifts, entertainment, educational or other expenses incurred in connection with marketing of products or services, or in connection with developing and maintaining relationships with government regulators. Diligence in this area would include examining expense records, inspection or training trips, and conference attendee lists and expenses;
- (f) an entity's relationships with distributors, sales agents, consultants, and other third parties and intermediaries, particularly those who interact with government customers or regulators; and
- (g) an entity's participation in joint ventures or other teaming arrangements that have significant government customers or are subject to significant government regulation.

4.6 Reporting bribery and suspicious activity

- (a) If a Representative becomes aware of any actual or suspected breach of this Policy, or if a Representative is ever offered any bribe or kickback, such Representative must report this to the Executive Director or the Company Secretary. Processes are in place to ensure that such complaints are investigated and appropriate action taken. The Company will not permit retaliation of any kind against any Representative for making good faith reports about actual or suspected violations of this Policy. These processes apply to all Representatives of the Company.
- (b) Matters which may be reported to the Executive Director or the Company Secretary include (but are not limited to):
 - (i) conduct which is inconsistent with the Company's Statement of Vision, Mission and Values, its Code of Conduct, policies and procedures;
 - (ii) violation of law;
 - (iii) abuse of Company resources and assets;
 - (iv) danger to health and safety of any individual;
 - (v) deliberate concealment of information;
 - (vi) fraud, corruption, bribery, extortion and theft;
 - (vii) financial misconduct;

- (viii) unfair discrimination; and
- (ix) attempt to suppress or conceal information relating to any of the above.
- (c) The Company expects all Representatives whether full-time, part-time or temporary acting in good faith to report unethical or fraudulent conduct without fear or favour.
- (d) Customers and suppliers are also encouraged to report unethical and fraudulent activities and (in the case of customers) activities that could constitute, or could be perceived to be, collusion or price fixing.
- (e) Representatives have an obligation to report suspected or potential breaches of this Policy to the Executive Director or the Company Secretary. All such information and reports will be dealt with in a responsible and sensitive manner. The Board will be informed of any material breaches of this Policy.
- (f) Any reporting of a breach or other suspicious or corrupt interactions may be dealt with under the Company's Whistleblower Policy. In accordance with the Whistleblower Policy, the person reporting the breach or inappropriate conduct will be appropriately protected.

5. Roles, responsibilities and compliance

- 5.1 It is the responsibility of all Representatives to familiarise themselves, understand and fully comply with this Policy.
- 5.2 Any Representative who fails to comply with the provisions as set out above or any amendment thereto, may be subject to appropriate disciplinary or legal action.
- 5.3 The Board has direct responsibility for the Policy, for maintaining it and for providing advice and guidance on its implementation. The Board is also responsible for periodically reviewing this Policy to determine its appropriateness to the needs of the Company from time to time, and amending it as necessary.
- 5.4 All business unit managers are directly responsible for implementing the Policy within their business areas, and for adherence by their staff.

6. Enquiries

- 6.1 Enquiries about this Policy should be directed to the Executive Director or the Company Secretary.
